GELATOn the ROAD:

A Journey of Flavor and Tradition at the Belgrade Fair

What if you could taste the history and culture of a place in a single bite? That's the idea behind GELATOn the ROAD, a project that brings the art of gelato making to different regions of Serbia and beyond. At the bustling 17th Ethnic Food and Drink Fair, held from November 30th to December 3rd at the Belgrade Fair, the CCIS-Belgrade Chamber of Commerce and Industry proudly showcased the GELATOn the ROAD project. This delightful initiative seamlessly blends culinary artistry, cultural heritage, and community spirit.

The Belgrade 17th Ethnic Food and Drink Fair: A Tapestry of Flavors

This Event stands as a vibrant tapestry, woven with threads of tradition and innovation. As the largest exhibition of its kind in Serbia and Southeast Europe, it serves as a melting pot for diverse flavors, aromas, and culinary techniques. Here, artisans, chefs, and food enthusiasts converge to celebrate the richness of regional gastronomy. From cheese and honey to wine and rakija, the fair offers a feast for the senses and a chance to discover new delicacies.

Preserving Culinary Heritage

But there's more, as beneath the layers of creamy gelato lies a deeper purpose. GELATOn the ROAD embodies the essence of culinary heritage of the timeless recipes, the joy of discovery, and the simple pleasure of savoring something made with care. The project aims to preserve and promote the local ingredients and flavors of each region, as well as the stories and traditions behind them.

By collaborating with local producers, farmers, and associations, GELATOn the ROAD creates a network of solidarity and support among the communities. So, next time you indulge in a scoop of Gelato, remember that you're not just tasting frozen sweetness. You're savoring tradition, community, and the spirit of culinary exploration itself.
